

Allow me to state the obvious, since you apparently didn't see the painted stripes on the ground: In no way is your vehicle within the lines of your parking space. You are prohibiting other people from their rightful space. Next time, try not to be so inconsiderate.

Love,
Chuck Schilling
"There auto be a law"

My auto-eyes have observed that your vehicle did not park in the proper designated space. This violation could be troublesome in the event of an actual emergency or genuine handicapped person. Please be more aware of this in the future.

Love,
Chuck Schilling
"There auto be a law"

Allow me to state the obvious, since you apparently didn't read your own parking space: In no way is your vehicle a compact. Next time, try not to be so inconsiderate. You can do great things. I believe in you.

Love,
Chuck Schilling
"There auto be a law"

I couldn't help but notice that you didn't leave adequate room for parallel parking. Whether you wedged your vehicle against mine or you flat out hogged the shoulder, I really could have used that extra room. Perhaps it's something to think about as you fall asleep tonight.

Love,
Chuck Schilling
"There auto be a law"